

GERMAN MEDICAL WORLD ASKS HELP

Limited Funds Make Laboratory Work Impossible; Foreign Books Unobtainable.

TURN TO STUDY OF BODY

Scientific Literature From Abroad One of Big Needs to Keep Up With Science.

BERLIN, Dec. 16 (Associated Press).—Somewhat of a transformation is taking place in Germany's medical world as a result of the limited funds available for experiments and studies, according to prominent surgeons and physicians. Attention is being turned from laboratory work, which is expensive, to a closer study of the functioning of the human body. The laws of heredity, psychology, and the structure of the body are being turned to the fore, medical circles assert, thereby opening fields of investigation that are as promising as the former studies and require less material and less expenditure.

In this connection attention is called to Germany's need for more men in other walks of life who are sufficiently interested and wealthy to support science.

"If one compares our paltry means with the sums America devotes to scientific work," one writer declares, "he is inclined to lose all hope."

This writer cites the local pride of American citizens for their institutions and the popularity these enjoy as evidenced by donations to their support.

Medical men assert that the crying need in Germany to-day is contributions which will keep pace, to some extent at least, with the rate of exchange. They say high prices not only prevent them obtaining necessary apparatus but deprive them of foreign technical literature. Libraries and institutes, as well as individuals, cannot afford a large selection of professional books and periodicals. Gratitude is expressed that an exchange arrangement is being effected through which books and journals from several other lands, including the United States, are being made available.

Leaders in the movement to cope with prevailing conditions also call upon members of the profession to adopt such American customs as popular lectures and press articles by scientists. Prof. Wilhelm His, one of Berlin's most prominent surgeons, admitting that the prestige of German science has suffered since the war, calls attention to the conditions under which German medical schools are struggling. He asserts that American medical men have "passed from their apprenticeship to the positions of masters."

WHITE HAIR FASHION FOR WOMEN IN PARIS

Mme. Paquin Trying to Influence Style of Dressing.

PARIS, Dec. 16 (Associated Press).—White hair will be the mode for women who possess it, this winter and thereafter, if the efforts of Mme. Jeanne Paquin, to influence the styles in this direction are successful.

"I want to show women that natural white hair may give a youthful appearance," she explained, "and that of our sex." Mme. Paquin, she added, "it was time women knew that one of the arts of dressing was to dress according to their age and that dyeing their hair only made them ugly."

You're Quite Young, Son, U. S. Admiral Tells King

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK HERALD, Copyright, 1922, by THE NEW YORK HERALD

ATHENS, Dec. 16.—"You're quite young, sonny, to wear admiral's plumes," Rear Admiral MacGowan, former Paymaster-General, U. S. Navy, remarked to a young officer while waiting in an antechamber of the palace for an interview with King George. He discovered only later, after leaving with the remark "I guess the King is too busy, and so am I," that he had been speaking to the King himself.

Admiral MacGowan had asked amably: "How do you like your job, brother? Are you a permanent or a temporary admiral?" The King replied that he didn't know how permanent he was.

PARISIAN ADVERTISES DIVORCES ON CREDIT

'Judgment in Three Months; Pay When Secured.'

PARIS, Dec. 16 (Associated Press).—Since Paris has become known as "the Reno of Europe," legal talent has turned its attention to obtaining divorce business. The climax was reached last week when a newspaper carried the following advertisement:

"Divorces on credit. Judgment guaranteed within three months. Pay when secured."

During the trial at Nancy some weeks ago of an influential man charged with the attempted murder of his wife, it was brought out in court that agents on divorce not only to secure evidence against men and women desirous of breaking their marital ties, but also contracted to "manufacture" evidence.

CLOSE OPERA LIBRARY IN PARIS WITH MUSIC

Phonograph Airs Substituted for Voice of Crier.

PARIS, Dec. 16 (Associated Press).—The library attached to the Paris Opera, scarcely known to the general public, closes every afternoon at 4 o'clock when the attendant calls out: "Closing time."

This method of announcement appeared to the library officials as hardly urbane enough for the national temple of music and so a phonographic disk and press articles by scientists. Prof. Wilhelm His, one of Berlin's most prominent surgeons, admitting that the prestige of German science has suffered since the war, calls attention to the conditions under which German medical schools are struggling. He asserts that American medical men have "passed from their apprenticeship to the positions of masters."

POISONING OF THAMES GULLS STIRS LONDON

LONDON, Dec. 16 (Associated Press).—Proof that the average Londoner is ardent fond of birds was furnished this week when the report of the death of several scores of Thames gulls was given prominent space in the newspapers and called forth general indignation.

An old custom is feeding the gulls along the Thames embankment, where hundreds of persons daily stand, throwing bread crumbs into the air and watching the birds catch the morsels on the wing.

The other day the bodies of a number of gulls were found floating in the river. An investigation disclosed that some person, instead of throwing bread crumbs to the birds, had fed them matches, the phosphorous ends of which poisoned and killed them.

TWO NEW MINERALS ARE THOUGHT FOUND

Field Museum Expedition Brings Back Specimens From Brazil.

FIVE LB. TOPAZ A TROPHY

Scientists Tell of Mountains of Iron Ore, Vast Gem Fields.

CHICAGO, Dec. 16 (Associated Press).—A topaz weighing five pounds, remarkable not only for its size but for its clearness, is among the specimens brought back to Chicago by Dr. Oliver C. Farrington, curator of the department of geology of Field Museum, who has just returned from an expedition to Brazil.

The expedition traveled 2,000 miles through the diamond, gold and precious stone fields of the South American republic, covering more than 300 miles through the mountains of the State of Minas Geraes on muleback.

The specimens obtained include gold, diamonds, aquamarines, beryls, emeralds and topazes, besides a number of minerals of the rare earths. Dr. Farrington believes he has found one or two minerals hitherto unknown to science.

The five pound topaz is one of a large number of enormous semi-precious stones obtained by the scientists, but is small compared to a twenty-six pound topaz which they saw at one of the mines.

The giant stone was valued at about $75 a pound. Cut up and polished a first grade topaz is worth from $5 to $10 a carat.

Diamond mines were visited in the region of Diamantina, 500 miles north of Rio Janeiro, in the center of a vast diamond-bearing area. The stones can be mined only in the neighborhood of water for washing the coarse earth away.

The diamonds are found in beds totally different from those in South Africa, the matrix being a quartzite composed of sands washed from older lands.

MUNICH BOY STIRS BLACK HAND SCARE

Says He Sent Threatening Letters to Test Police Force.

BERLIN, Dec. 16.—Munich has been freed from a Black Hand scare following the arrest of a fourteen-year-old boy. Many families received letters saying, "I am sent from Gad as Saviour. Give me 1,000 marks. Put it where the cross is marked on your house or the devil will come to claim you. You must not talk about this letter to the police or preachers, for they are unbelievers."

When the police found the boy he said he had played the trick merely to test the efficiency of the force.

NATIONAL PARKS VIE WITH A TRIP ABROAD

Federal Report Declares They Outdo Europe in Attractiveness.

POPULARITY ON INCREASE

Offer Winter Sports Comparing With Those of Alps or Pyrenees.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—Americans who spend millions abroad for recreation and views of impressive scenery are told in the annual report of the National Park Service that these may be found in greater abundance and beauty in their native land.

Winter sports, now in the minds of those who can afford the ever increasing cost of a trip to Europe, are also to be found in equal attractiveness here at home. The report calls attention to "the unexcelled opportunities offered in the national parks for winter vacationing and winter sports," and asserts: "Those in Yosemite Valley are declared to surpass the offerings of many foreign winter resorts. Rocky Mountain, Mount Rainier, and Lafayette National Parks are also available for winter sports in surroundings unexcelled."

All Year Round Playground.

Advantages of the national parks for all year round activities are also set forth. Yellowstone and the other parks offer marvelous scenic prospects and accommodations "to meet varied tastes and all degrees of income, means and inclination."

Stephen P. Mather, director of the National Park Service, in sending the report to Secretary Fall reviewed the history of America's parks and their increasing popularity as evidenced during the past year, which marked the fiftieth anniversary of Yellowstone.

During the last year a million and a quarter persons visited the parks, an increase of nearly fifty thousand over record established the year before, or an increase of 822,000 over the visitors in 1915.

Taking up in detail the several parks, the report in part says:

"Yellowstone Park is reported as having had its most successful season. Of the 51,000 motorists coming in their own cars, 50,000 camped out in the free public grounds with their own equipment. The park trail system was used by saddle horse parties more than ever before. Yellowstone Park probably offers the best trout fishing in the country."

Buffalo Increasing Fast.

"In spite of a severe winter the park antelope herd was the only one to suffer much loss. The loss is reported as having been largely made up by birth of kids during the summer. The buffalo herd is increasing so rapidly that legislation is needed authorizing the disposition of surplus buffalo in order to keep the herd within the winter feeding capacity of the hay ranch."

"Travel into Yosemite Park passed the 100,000 mark in spite of the poor condition of the park roads. It would seem that the time has now come when, if the government is to fulfill its obligations to the people visiting Yosemite, Congress should provide ample funds for the improvement of the park road system."

Grand Canyon Park is enjoying its greatest year as a tourist resort, 84,700 persons having visited it the last year.

That visitors might make wider use of the canyon trails and thus gain a comprehensive view of the vastness of the gorge and its wonders below the rim a new tourist facility, The Phantom Ranch, was built near the mouth of Bright Angel Creek at the bottom of the canyon.

"Rocky Mountain Park again leads all other parks in the number of visitors recorded, with the remarkable total of 215,164."

"A new era for Crater Lake National Park is noted with the acquisition of the public utility enterprise within the park by a group of public spirited citizens of Oregon. An eighty room addition to the Crater Lake Lodge is under construction, which, it is said, will be entirely completed and furnished by the opening of the 1924 season."

A 20 per cent. increase in travel is reported for Mount Rainier Park, it having entertained a total of 70,378 visitors.

The following summary showed the number of visitors to the various parks during the 1922 season: Hot Springs, Ark., 106,164; Yellowstone, Wyo., 88,223; Sequoia, Cal., 75,614; Yosemite, Cal., 106,507; General Grant, Cal., 50,466; Mount Rainier, Wash., 70,767; Crater Lake, Ore., 33,611; Wind Cave, S. COURT BLAMES WOMAN FOR LOSING JEWELS

Holds Hotel Blameless When Guest Won't Take Precautions

LONDON, Dec. 16 (Associated Press).—A judgment was given in the High Court this week which will affect many tourists, habitués of London hotels. A woman guest at a West End hotel lost 1866 worth of jewelry from her room. She sued the proprietor of the hotel, who denied liability and contended that the plaintiff was negligent in leaving her bedroom door unlocked.

Judge Sankey gave judgment for the proprietor, holding that the guest did not use proper care regarding her jewelry. She had a key to the bedroom door and also a key to her wardrobe, both of which she could have locked, the court said.

Another judgment by the same court was in a case where two women claimed several hundred pounds sterling from another woman, who was alleged to have borrowed the money on representation that her husband required it. The husband was brought into the action as a defendant but denied having given his wife authority to borrow. The judge found against the wife, but dismissed the husband from the case, asserting "a husband is not liable for fraudulent representations of his wife, who might order an expensive automobile, representing that it was for her husband."

MILLERAND LEANS TO MUSSOLINI ROLE

Assertion Parliament Talks Too Much and Does Too Little Stirs Comment.

PARIS, Dec. 16 (Associated Press).—Members of Parliament are asking each other how near President Millerand might come to enacting in France the role played by Premier Mussolini in Italy.

"Parliament talks too much and does too little," the President said recently in an address before the Institute of France. This was said in the President's usual quiet and unobtrusive way instead of according to the aggressive Mussolini method, but it touched the sensibilities of the Senators, and they are now discussing just how far such personal Presidential initiative may go.

"Parliaments are constituted for talking purposes," the Senators retort. "It is for the Government to govern. If France is not properly governed let the Government, with President Millerand at the head, explain."

Before election to the Presidency M. Millerand warned the members of both houses that he would not be satisfied to play the official role of his immediate predecessors, declaring that he would restore the office to its constitutional footing of a real executive position. Since the resignation of M. Cassinier, the President of France has been regarded as nothing more than the impartial arbitrator of interior political affairs and a sort of consulting authority on foreign relations.

HALF GERMAN WORKERS HAVE EIGHT HOUR DAY

Special Correspondence to THE NEW YORK HERALD.

BERLIN, Dec. 16.—According to a report of the Christian Trade Union Federation, which has been investigating production, but half of German workers actually work a full eight hour day.

The remaining half work less than forty-eight hours a week, the committee found, although the legal day through out German industry and government projects is eight hours.
